

ARMY POLICES HOTELS TO KEEP SOLDIERS SOBER

Upon a personal statement made this morning by Brig-Gen. Frederick S. Strong by the management of the Graystone hotel that no soldiers would be allowed to drink in the establishment or to change from military to civilian clothes there, it was announced today at army headquarters that the special provost guard placed last night at the Graystone entrance will be removed.

Until officers at army headquarters are satisfied fully that no violation of the military liquor law is occurring at other lodging houses which were guarded last night these special patrols will be kept on guard.

Guards were kept last night in front of the Graystone, Occidental, Washington and at 427 Beretania street, opposite the Queen's hospital grounds.

This morning also the management of Heine's Tavern announced to Gen. Strong that along with other seaside resorts that hotel will not sell liquor to any persons in bathing suits. The Seaside and the Moana had already agreed to this, and it was tentatively understood that Heine's would come in with the others.

It was said today that the five soldiers arrested Sunday on the beach at the instance of Lieut. L. D. Baker, who is said to have found them passing a bottle freely among them, will be tried by courtmartial.

WINCHESTER PROPRIETOR SAYS HIS PLACE ORDERLY; SUSPICION ON NEIGHBOR

F. Hron, proprietor of the Winchester rooming house, above Beretania street, said today that it is an injustice to link the name of his house with any selling of booze to soldiers or other evasions of the law. Hron says that it is true there are apparent evasions of the law near his premises, but it is because another lodging house almost adjacent permits irregularities by soldiers.

"I am perfectly willing to show my books to the police or military authorities as proof that I rent no rooms by the night and that my lodgers are virtually all permanent and of good character," says Hron. "I regret that the actions around a nearby house have placed the neighborhood under suspicion and perhaps caused a guard by the military authorities, but I want to assert strongly that there is no evasion of law on my premises and we turn away all suspicious characters."

SIX MEN TURNED OVER TO U. S. FOR SELLING INTOXICANTS TO SOLDIERS

Charles J. Smith and three other men have been placed in the custody of Marshal Jerome J. Smiddy following their arrest last night on charges of furnishing liquor to military men in uniform. Up to today six men have been turned over to the federal authorities charged with the same offense, one arrest having been made personally by Marshal Smiddy.

Smith was arrested last night by Jack Roberts, assistant to Liquor Inspector W. H. Hutton. The other three were also arrested last night, but by police officers.

A warrant for the arrest of Smith was prepared this morning. The other warrants probably will be issued some time today. It is presumed that bond

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—CAPT. TAIT of the Kestrel: She's a trim little craft and I'm glad to be back.

—S. S. PAXSON: Judging from the number of cars coming on the Matsonia there is still a good auto business in the islands.

MAYOR-ELECT FERN: After a few days' sickness and one operation I don't feel much like discussing possible Democratic nominees.

—J. A. BALCH: Our new Kalia substation is but another indication that the Mutual Telephone Co. does not propose to quit because material is high.

—C. Y. WILMARTH: I wonder if it has occurred to Honolulu that if the Maui and Matsonia, with their great cold storage facilities, are taken over by the government, the islands may be hard up for butter and eggs occasionally.

SHEEDY, formerly of Honolulu and now of Seattle, have been blessed with a baby girl, according to telegraphic news received by Associate Justice Coke of the Supreme Court from Mrs. Coke. Mrs. Coke recently left for Seattle to be with Mrs. Sheedy, who is an intimate friend, during her illness. Mother and baby are reported to be doing well. Mr. Sheedy is assistant to the president of the Seattle Construction & Drydock Company, one of the largest industrial corporations of the Pacific coast.

ALIEN SCARE PROVES A MYTH

For a while this morning the federal officials believed they had secured their first case of a German alien traveling in one of the restricted areas without a permit.

A Hawaiian, employed on pier 7, while returning to his work last night in an alleged intoxicated condition, was arrested by a provost guard and turned over to the police.

The first report reaching the marshal's office this morning was that a German alien had been arrested for being unlawfully on the pier. But when the Hawaiian was brought to the office, and it was found out who he was, he was turned back to the police.

LOSES RANK AND PAY FOR "FRENCH LEAVE"

Reduction to the grade of private and forfeiture of two-thirds of his monthly pay for six months is the sentence that has been imposed upon Sgt. Edmund Lintereur, Battery B, 9th Field Artillery, tried before a general courtmartial on charges of having violated the 61st and 94th Articles of War.

"The sentence, though inadequate, is approved and will be duly executed," is the comment of the commanding general in the printed order regarding the trial.

Charges against Lintereur were that he had left his post without proper authority, absented himself from the evening of May 11 to the morning of May 14, this year, and that also while on duty as sergeant of the guard he had abandoned the guard. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

CONSUL FOR PERU GETS COMMISSION IN RESERVE

Bruce Cartwright, Jr., consul for Peru and member of the territorial land board, today received his commission as a captain in the officers' reserve corps, United States army. Cartwright is assigned to special duties in the quartermaster's division and will probably not be called to an army post as captain of infantry have been recently.

Richard Bolton, chief clerk in the transportation division of the army quartermaster's office, today received word from Washington that he will be permitted to take the examination for captain in that branch of the reserve corps. He will begin his examination tomorrow.

Mrs. Arthur L. Andrews will head the central committee on child welfare during the coming year, the other officers being Mrs. P. L. Weaver, vice president; Mrs. George Hutchinson, secretary; and Mrs. Herman Hugo, treasurer. Work done by the organization in the last year is outlined in a report prepared by Mrs. Weaver.

in each case will be fixed in the sum of $1000, as in the first two cases. A preliminary hearing of the case of A. Garcia, one of the first men arrested, was to be held this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner George S. Curry. Marshal Smiddy's office this morning represented a small saloon bottles of beer, whisky and "dago red" were scattered around the wall and in one corner was a gunny sack filled with a variety of bottled beverages. Much of this was evidence taken when the arrests were made last night.

Bottled beer seems to be the predominating fluid as far as sales made by the wine bums are concerned, says the marshal.

POSTAL CLERKS GET WAGE RAISE

Postoffice employees throughout the territory who now receive not more than $1000 a year are expected to benefit by the new federal law providing for increases in pay of all government employees after July 1.

Although Postmaster D. H. MacAdams said this morning he has not yet received any notification from the postoffice department at Washington relative to increased pay for postal employees in the islands, he had the following to say:

"The last postal act, which I brought with me from Washington, and which provides for the budget of the coming fiscal year (July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918), calls for increased compensation of postoffice employees. Those who receive $480 salary or less a year will be raised 15 per cent, while employees getting not less than $480 or more than $1000 a year get a 10 per cent increase."

The postmaster says there are a number of men in the local office who now get from $800 to $900 a year, who should benefit by the act, which does not specify that employees shall be under civil service.

Bought Clothing Under-price

"There's something that doesn't happen very often," said the chief to me yesterday.

"What's that?" I inquired.

"There are three of Honolulu's millionaires buying clothing in this store at this minute. I'm going over to see if I can help a little."

Thirty minutes after I caught the chief again.

"Say," said I, "did those three Honolulu millionaires buy clothing?"

"Every one of 'em bought," said he, and then he told me who they were.

I wish I could print their names, but it wouldn't be courteous to do it without permission—and big people are not looking for free publicity, anyway.

But, as a result of this visitation of millionaires, yesterday's sales jumped into the thousands again. Naturally, everybody was "Dee-lighted!"

The salesmen were tickled at making such fine, fat sales, and—

The chief shook hands with himself every time he looked at the checks. "You just bet I'm glad!" said he. "We want to move the merchandise."

"Well, you've overlooked the biggest item in your note of thanks," said I.

"How's that?"

"You ought to be thankful, most of all, for the confidence these people have shown in you and your store. One of those millionaires is the head of a great mercantile house. He could buy clothing as cheaply as you do, if he wanted to go to the trouble. The fact that he and the others come here and pay you good American dollars, shows they believe in the sale, and the store, and the advertising. Those are the things to be thankful for."

"And I am thankful that Adler-Rochester Suits are moving faster than ever. I want men of Honolulu to wear 'em. I take a personal pride in 'em because I know the men behind the Adler-Rochester factory."

Come in tomorrow and pick your favorite model at these prices:

$20.00 Men's Suits for $13.85; $22.50 suits for $16.85; $25.00 suits for $17.85; $27.50 suits for $20.35, and the $30.00 suits for $22.85. The highest grade suits that usually sell for $32.50 go at $24.85 and $35.00 suits go at $26.85, and the $37.50 suits at $28.85; and one special lot of Adler-Rochester Suits, $25.00, $27.50 and $30.00 values are selling at $16.85, and believe me, they are selling.

Regular $6.00 Men's trousers for $4.55; $7.00 trousers for $5.35; $8.00 trousers for $6.35, and the $9.00 kind for $7.35. $6.50 white Flannel and Serge trousers bring $5.15; the $7.50 for $5.95; the $8.50 quality for $6.65, and the $9.50 quality for $7.35.

Palm Beach and "Two Kote" two and three button Men's Suits, regular $12.50 values, for $9.35.

Don't confuse these Palm Beach suits with those you see every day for $7.00 or $8.00. These Palm Beach suits are as different as a distinctive dress suit is from a sloppy paid of overalls.

White Duck Trousers that always sold for $2.00 the pair on sale at $1.35.

SALVATION ARMY WORK BRINGS 20 TO 'HIT TRAIL'

No active campaign for the American Red Cross has been instituted in Honolulu for Red Cross Week, which began yesterday on the mainland. James A. Rath, head worker of Palama Settlement, who is the unofficial representative of the American Red Cross in this city, said today that the War Relief Committee of Hawaii, of which he is secretary and treasurer, is sending all its contributions to the American Red Cross, to be used by the latter organization as it sees fit.

$2200 SENT U. S. BY RED CROSS

"To date this month we have forwarded $2200 to the American Red Cross," he said this morning. "Last month we sent $7000. All funds given to the War Relief Committee of Hawaii will be turned over to the Red Cross as soon as contributed."

PUNAHOU PREPS HOLD CLASS DAY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) OAHU COLLEGE, June 19.—The graduating class of Punahou Preparatory School held its class day exercises under the vine-clad pergola by the lily pond on Punahou campus yesterday afternoon. After a picnic lunch the happy group adjourned to the shade of a neighboring tree and there under the direction of Frederick Kiebach, master of ceremonies, enjoyed a most entertaining and enjoyable program.

Edward Meyer in most serious tones read the "Last Will and Testament" of the class, bequeathing to the seventh grade all the worldly goods of the departing graduates.

Four witches, Vesta Quinn, Harriet Richardson, Hilda Watkins and Margaret Sayres, scurried over the campus and from its remote corners brought the ghosts whom they had captured and forced them to disclose their names and personal history. Those who took the part of ghosts were Charles Chillingworth, Homer Lydgate, Brainerd Taylor, Alice Sharp, Dorothy Goodhue, Sybil Hockley, Pauline Kluegel, Kathleen O'Dowda, Marguerite Paris and Lita Rodiek.

The "Sisters Four" next distributed to the class their individual prophecies, which they required each graduate to read for the benefit of applauding classmates. One of the boys found that he was destined to be an old maid while a lady teacher found that she was doomed to the fate of being a bachelor.

Then followed a very entertaining class history written by Ethel Harvey.

THE MAN FROM DENVER 76 Hotel St., near Fort St.

class historian, and read by Dorothy Goodhue. To the accompaniment of the boys' orchestra the class sang its farewell songs and then they happily made their way to the spot chosen for the planting of their class tree. Class President Bonnar Lindsay had chosen an Australian Juniper, which was started to the cheers of "Oahu-wa."

"PEG OF THE MOVIES" LOSES HUSBAND BY DEATH

The Star-Bulletin published a story in the automobile feature section Saturday telling how "Peg of the Movies" won an auto race and a husband, too, and now comes the sad news of the husband's death shortly after marriage, following an operation for appendicitis. "Peg of the Movies," who was Miss Eleanor Blevins and is now Mrs. Herbert D. Betts, visited in Honolulu a few months ago and later, by winning an auto race in the East and a $1000 bet from Betts, she became acquainted with and married him.
